CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Aspiring Directors Programme

PREPARING PROFESSIONALS, MANAGERS OR EXECUTIVES TO BE EFFECTIVE DIRECTORS IN A GLOBAL CONTEXT

Being a board member today is a very different role from being a senior executive and brings with it added complexity and unique responsibilities which are different from other management and operational roles.

To successfully carry out a board mandate, directors must have a general overview of a company's operational activities and corporate governance, including an understanding of its exposure to risk and strategic direction.

The ILA has partnered with leading business school INSEAD and the INSEAD Corporate Governance Centre (ICGC) to launch the Aspiring Directors Programme. The programme is designed to prepare professionals, managers or executives moving into a first-time director level role, building exceptional levels of strategic, high performance and self-aware leadership skills. You will transform into an insightful and impactful leader in a director level role.
